

Don't miss our totally packed NA4SA-NASSCED Speaker Showcase!

Once again, a Speakers' Showcase program jointly sponsored by NA4SA and the National Association of State Student Council Executive Directors (NASSCED) will be offered to participants from both organizations after the NASSCED Winter Meeting concludes and before the NA4SA National Conference on Student Activities (NCSA) begins, from 3:05-5:00 p.m. on Friday December 6. We invite all NCSA attendees to attend this FREE event and take advantage of the opportunity to meet and hear from these up and coming speakers – who are eager to share their message to YOUR school or state!

Summer Owens

For over a decade, Summer Owens has been inspiring, educating, and empowering people to achieve “S.O. What! Success” – that’s success no matter what obstacles they face! She is an award winning author, speaker, success coach, and founder of the S.O. What! Foundation.

Summer became a mother at fifteen, but she didn't let that stop her from achieving her dreams. Selected “most likely to succeed”, she graduated #8 in her high school class, earned a Business Administration degree and the title of Miss University of Memphis, and started her career with the Memphis Grizzlies in their inaugural season. She is also the creator of inspiring events like the annual “Love Yourself” event and the S.O. What! Awards & Scholarship Soiree, celebrating stories of resilience and community contributions.

Her story of resilience has been featured nationally on CNN, the 700 Club, and other media outlets. You can learn more about Summer at <https://SummerOwens.com>

Fletcher Cleaves

Fletcher Cleaves was involved in a tragic car accident that left him paralyzed from the chest down, due to a driver suspected of texting while behind the wheel. This traumatic incident caused him to lose his football scholarship – but with faith, perseverance, and a year of intense physical therapy, he re-enrolled in school and graduated from the University of Memphis with a degree in Computer Science.

As a professional speaker, Fletcher has shared his testimony of overcoming adversity, safe driving, the importance of education and faith with ESPN, College Game Day, and over 600 high schools and colleges. To many, his accident would seem like the end of a promising future, but for Fletcher Cleaves it became the prologue to his destiny. Evan Wesley

Evan Wesley is Co-Founder and Chief Program Officer for Legacy Youth Leadership, an international non-profit that develops students as leaders. He has traveled around the world, speaking about leadership and service, to over 100,000 students in 13 countries.

Legacy Youth Leadership, founded in 2020, is dedicated to helping young people become better versions of themselves, so they can make the world a better place. Evan has built Legacy into an international, impact-driven youth leadership organization, involving over 50,000 students in more than 20 countries who are developing service initiatives to solve some of the world's biggest problems.

Through his work at Legacy, Evan has spoken at Google Headquarters, led sessions at the United Nations, and has been recognized by Forbes Magazine as a “30 Under 30 Leader”. You can learn more about Evan at <https://evantwesley.com>

Coach Shabazz

Coach Shabazz is the definition of beating the odds! He jumped into a street gang at 12 years old, the youngest sibling of drug addicts, dealers, and alcoholics. However, he realized that the street life and gang violence was only a means to a short life and fast death.

His will and passion for athletics and training, along with his faith, as a healthy distraction from street life. Coach Shabazz spent all of his time in youth sports, working out, and finding creative ways to excel in every sport he played – making his way to (The) Ohio State University as a college football player, and later as a professional football player. After his playing career ended, Coach Shabazz became the single most successful strength and conditioning coach in history, training elite athletes from the NFL, NBA, and Major League Baseball, also working with celebrities like NLE Choppa.

Now, Coach Shabazz is committed to traveling the country to share his story of resilience and determination, inspiring others to overcome their own challenges, embrace the possibility of a brighter future, and become the absolute best version of themselves.
